DEDICATION

The Class of 1960

We, the Class of 1960, proudly dedicate our yearbook to Miss Driscoll in grateful appreciation for the four years of time and effort she has given us.

Superintendent's Message

Modern psychologists tell us that man has three major desires or ambitions:

to be loved to be significant or prominent to be secure.

These can be attained only through hard work, continual study, and cooperation with others. Do your best in each endeavor and you will find your life richer, fuller, and more satisfactory.

Principal's Message to the Class of 1960

"Be not vexed over evil-doers, nor jealous of those who do wrong;
For like grass they quickly wither, and like green herbs they wilt.
Trust in the Lord and do good, that you may dwell in the land and enjoy security.
Take delight in the Lord, and he will grant you your heart's requests.
Commit to the Lord your way; trust in him, and he will act.
He will make justice dawn for you like the light; bright as the noonday shall be your vindication.
Leave it to the Lord, and wait for him; Be not vexed at the successful path of the man who does malicious deeds.
Give up your anger, and forsake wrath; be not vexed; it will only harm you.
For evildoers shall be cut off, but those who wait for the Lord shall possess the land."

Psalms 36-1-19

Good Luck and God Bless you.

Harold L. Inalter

Assistant Principal's Message

As individuals, our strength is little, collectively it is great. In the future, as in the past, our collective strength can turn the course of events in any direction. This is an obligation that we all must share as part of our heritage.

There is, however, another obligation, and that is the obligation which the school owes to you. Schools are neither buildings nor teachers; playgrounds nor equipment.

Schools are places in which we live during an important period in our lives, and a school is rated by the contribution of those who live and have lived in it. If Mansfield High School is a good school, it is because of what you are, and what you are to be in the future. I feel that Mansfield High School is a good one, and for that I am grateful to you.

Class History

by
Anita Arayas
Marion Gasson
John Cipriani

Can it be possible that we, the Class of 1960, entered the new High School building six years ago, and that we are now one step from our ultimate goal—graduation? Our two years in the Junior Wing passed all too quickly, and we soon found ourselves enrolled as freshmen—the first class to look forward to graduation in the new decade.

At the beginning of that year, the Seniors were kind enough to honor us at an initiation dance. David, will you ever forget your whipped cream shave?

When the confusion of that week was over, we were finally organized under the supervision of our class advisors—Miss Driscoll and Mr. Leedham, and our newly elected class officers—Peter DeGirolamo, President; James Baldini, Vice-President; Susan Palanza, Secretary; and Marion Gasson, Treasurer. Although we were only Freshmen, we contributed many athletes to the sports program. Our social calendar for that year was restricted to one dance. The "May Swing," as we so appropriately named it, was both a social and financial success.

In September of 1957, the knowledge that we would no longer be the youngest members of the Senior Wing gave us a special inducement to return to school. Under the leadership of our re-elected officers and our appointed advisors—Miss Driscoll and Mr. Williams, we had many discussions concerning the raising of class funds. "Red, blue, green, or black?" was the question that we, as Sophomores, were asking, for we had finally decided to sell pens as a class project. Our dance that year, thanks to the ten boys who reluctantly volunteered their services, was a great success. Certainly, they will never forget their uncomfortable burlap sack dresses! The talent show held in the spring of that year revealed that many members of our class were adept in the fields of music and comedy. With the contestants wearing eyeglasses, no matter what shape or size, the theme of Community Opticians was plainly put across.

That year the policy of electing the class officers in the spring was initiated. Our class, along with the other classes, voted for those who were to lead us in the ensuing year. When our ballots were counted, the officers were: Peter DeGirolamo, President; Ronald Sankey, Vice-President; Susan Palanza, Secretary; and Marion Gasson, Treasurer.

The last decision we made before leaving school that year was the selection and ordering of our class rings.

When we returned for our junior year we eagerly anticipated the arrival of our class rings. One of our projects that year was the annual doughnut drive. Under the direction of our class advisors, Miss Driscoll and Mr. Libertine, we decided to give our business to a local establishment, Sullivan's Doughnut Shop. Everyone in Mansfield must have been eating doughnuts at each and every meal in order to help us sell 12,000 doughnuts! Wallace Gordon and Marshall Hutchinson will never forget their prize—free class dues for the senior year—for selling a total of 150 dozen doughnuts.

In the spring of our junior year, the National Honor Society was introduced into Mansfield High School. Six members of the Junior Class were inducted at that impressive ceremony.

About that time David Collingwood and David Piasecki were named delegates for Boys' State. Representative for Girls' State was Juliana Kane; her alternate was Beverly Rodrick.

Another first was the selection of Vantine as our class photographer. In May of that year we elected our class officers for the last time. They were: Peter DeGirolamo, President; James Baldini, Vice-President; Susan Palanza, Secretary; and Marion Gasson, Treasurer.

However, the big social event of the Junior year was still ahead of us. The task of organizing the committees was placed on the shoulders of Juliana Kane and Leonard Payden. We will certainly remember the months of hard work that were put into the preparation of that event and the part each of us played in making the Senior Reception a social and financial success. We raided the waterfront to procure articles such as boats, fishnets, and lobster pots to add the finishing touches to our underwater scene. The sentiment and formality which was connected with that last event of the year projected our thoughts to our coming Senior year and our own Senior Reception.

In September of 1959, we entered Mansfield High School for our final year. This year our class advisors were Mrs. Pearce, Mr. Lemieux, and Miss Driscoll, who has for four years steadily contributed encouragement toward our accomplishments. This year we, as Seniors, had two days in which to initiate the Freshman Class. This initiation was climaxed by a Welcome Freshman Dance. Certainly, the Freshman boys will always remember how to wear lipstick! And Rene, will you ever forget the time you pushed Peter Musto around the flag pole in a baby carriage?

At the end of October we began preparations for our class play, "The Curious Savage," under the direction of Mr. Wells. Will we ever forget Barbara's lines that began, "Fifty needles and fifty pins?" Included in the cast were: Ralph Blackader, Raymond Briggs, Mary Crotty, Kathleen Cruser, Joan Delliacono, Barbara Donlan, Sandra Menard, Leonard Payden, Elaine Sarro, Donald Wellman, and Robert Whaley.

About this time we also undertook the greatest task of our Senior year, the "1960 Hornet," the school's first annual which was to contain all of the senior activities. Under the direction of Mr. Payden, our co-editors, Juliana Kane and John Cipriani, worked in co-operation with the business manager, Beverly Rodrick. Chairmen of the various committees were: Senior Biographers, Roberta Bielan and Leonard Payden; Class Editors, Susan Palanza and Peter DeGirolamo; Sports, Marion Gasson, David Piasecki, and Robert Santucci; Advertising, Carol Alessandri and Anita Arayas; Art and Photography, Patricia Breen and Albert Ingelese; and the Business Staff of Kathleen Cruser, Norma Menga, Anita Signoriello, and Geraldine Spiezio. At our rate, will we really get it delivered before August?

To help provide funds for the yearbook, our class sponsored the annual Cheerleading Competition under the leadership of our co-captains Barbara Donlan and Susan Palanza. The cheerleaders not only worked hard for this event, but they also spent the entire year urging our championship teams on to victory.

Contrary to the early predictions for this year's sports program, Mansfield High has finished first in three major sports. The future of our success in sports was evident as Mansfield won the Class D Championship in football with an undefeated, un-tied season, winning an important victory against a strong North Attleboro team. Seniors who participated in football were: Peter DeGirolamo, Captain, James Baldini, Armand Brunelle, David Collingwood, Stanley Dill, William Foster, Wallace Gordon, Mark Hansel, Albert Inglese, Douglas Maxwell, Ronald Maxwell, David Piasecki, Ronald Sankey, Robert Santucci, and Francis Vicino.

In basketball, we'll never forget the stormy night in which many faithful fans cheered our team on to the Hockomock League Championship. With the aid of his teammates, Robert Santucci made the winning basket against Randolph in an overtime period. Co-captains of the basketball team were Ronald Sankey and David Collingwood.

Following in the steps of the football and basketball teams, the baseball nine was also victorious, and won the Hockomock Baseball League title. The co-captains of this squad were Robert Santucci and Ronald Sankey. The girls' tennis team, inspired by the wonders of the male athletes, easily won the league championship in their sport.

Our biggest social event of the year was "Club 60." The waitresses, waiters, and decorations all gave a realistic appearance of our version of a night club. Bill Parsons, our MC, helped to reveal the hidden talents of our faculty. We wish to thank the professional artists, Miss "Dinah Shore" Murphy, "Duane Eddy" Vickery, and the contestants from the Arthur Murray Dance Studios for contributing their valuable time to aid our humble cause.

The last function of our class was to choose committees for the class motto; colors, pink and blue; flower, the pink rose; song and the choice of a class gift. Members of these committees were as follows: Class Motto—Anita Arayas, Mary Crotty, and Norma Menga; Class Flower—Diane Hagerty, Sandra Pritchard, and Alberta Young; Class Song—Carol Alessandri, Frederick Giavino, and Carolyn Holt; and Class Gift—Roberta Farinella, Jean Hagerty, and Robert Whaley.

The calendar for commencement week was as follows: Baccalaureate, Sunday, June 12; Class Day, June 13; Graduation, June 14; and the Senior Reception, June 17. The Class History, Will, and Prophecy were written as follows: "Class History"—Anita Arayas, Marion Gasson, and John Cipriani; "Class Will"—Patricia Breen, Norma Menga, and Albert Niemi; and the "Class Prophecy"—Carol Alessandri, Sandra Pritchard, and David Piasecki. Graduation essayists were Juliana Kane, Roberta Bielan, Roberta Farinella, and Beverly Rodrick. The king and queen of the Senior Reception were Peter DeGirolamo and Susan Palanza.

Without seeming egotistical we hope that these many successful innovations which we have stated in our Class History will be of help to following classes. We hope that they will adopt the best of them and establish them as traditions in Mansfield High School. Though we may think we have accomplished a great deal, nevertheless, we realize, as our class motto states, "We are not at the top, but climbing."

Last Will and Testament of the Class of 1960

by Norma Menga, Albert Niemi, and Patricia Breen

We, the Class of 1960, of the County of Hilarity, State of Confusion, being of unsound and confused mind, do declare the following to be our last will and testament, with no intention of carrying it through.

To Mr. Qualters, we leave a book on how to keep everyone happy, or "How to Be Popular."

To Mr. Belonga, we leave a scrapbook in which to keep our doubtful notes of absence.

To Mr. Thompson, we leave our thanks and a good-by.

To the Faculty, we leave the books we didn't want in the first place.

To the Freshmen, we leave this encouraging thought, "You've Gotta Have Heart," and believe us, you do.

To the Sophomores, we leave the hope of developing originality of some kind.

To the Juniors, we leave all the privileges that go along with being a Senior.

Pete leaves a pronouncing gazetteer to Mr. Sullivan, in hopes that he will learn to pronounce DeGirolamo correctly.

Harold Bishop, Roger Cardin, and Russell Christian leave singing "We Ain't Coming Back No More, No More."

Lenny Payden leaves, arguing.

Sidney Ballou leaves his love of bookkeeping to next year's Senior who likes to concentrate on figures.

Billy Foster leaves his blushing smile to Rod Stearns.

"Skipper" Whaley leaves his knack of getting into trouble, but never getting the blame, to "Butchie" Santucci, hoping he can learn the technique.

Freddy Brown leaves his "I don't care" attitude to his brother, Barry.

Gerry Spiezio leaves her closeness to the ground to Gay Willis, who might like a change of scenery.

The Mad Chemists of 1960, Bill Slattery, Mark Hansel, Tom Donlan, and Ray Fiore, leave Mr. O'Neill their new bomb, hoping he will test it out.

Gerry Allard leaves her silent ways and a muzzle to Kathy "Giggly" Smith.

Jimmy Baldini leaves his dashing looks and wonders what he will do without them.

Cortlandt Bellavance leaves his honorary title as "State Commissioner of Safety" to Ronnie Miller, who could never get it on his own.

Sandy Menard leaves to break the sound barrier in her hot car.

Dwight Phillips, Harry Larsen, and David Craig leave to master the art of making oneself heard.

Gerry Cutillo leaves her steady record of attendance to anyone else who can get away with it.

Judy Paioni leaves her tennis racket to Diane Liberatore, with tears.

Army Brunelle leaves sis warm place on the bench to Ronnie Linari.

Bobby Baldini leaves his luxury, foam-lined elevator shoes to Ronnie Gentili.

Ronnie Maxwell leaves Room 215 with tears in his eyes.

Billy Fielding leaves next year's Junior Class best wishes on their doughnut drive.

Stanley "Steamer" Medeiros leaves to marry a millionairess.

Jeff Watts leaves, willingly.

Albert "Gopher" Inglese leaves his artistic ability to Kathy Houghton.

Barbara Donlan leaves her personality plus to Ellen Bolin.

Janet Phillips leaves 102-A empty.

Carolyn Holt leaves to be an announcer of Station QSOE, otherwise known as the Quietest Station on Earth.

Norma Menga leaves her Elvis Presley scrapbook to Lucille Farrell, who, Norma thinks, is capable of keeping it up.

David Blackford leaves his interest in girls to Allen Cinelli, singing, "There is Nothing Like a Dame."

Roberta Bielan leaves her high place on the honor roll to anyone who wants to get ahead by studying.

Fred Wills leaves to spend a peaceful summer on the Cape.

Peggy Moran leaves her quick laugh to the hyenas.

The mechanical ability of Dick Geminiani is left to Ernie Chace.

Janice King leaves her well-used roller skates to any underclassmen needing some speed to arrive to classes on time.

Wally Gordon leaves his spot on the basketball team to Gary Willis.

Mary Crotty leaves her sophisticated ways to Doreen Morini, asking her not to over-do it.

Sandra Cooper leaves her early hours at the Donut Shop to anyone else who can take it with a smile.

Rosemarie Ricci leaves, chattering.

Elaine Nordberg leaves singing, "I'm Late, I'm Late."

Tommy Markt leaves his "52" Plymouth to his brother Bobby, with regrets.

Anita Arayas leaves her jobb as Secretary-Treasurer of the Drill Team to anyone who is foolish enough to accept it.

Ronnie "Cheyenne" DeSantis leaves his knack of eating, along with a petition for a longer lunch period, to Thomas Miner.

Bobbi Farinella leaves her slightly used basketball uniform to Maureen Canty.

Judy Piasecki leaves her business-like manner to Elaine Shaw.

Julie Kane leaves for Greenwich Village to become a beatnik.

Eddy O'Neill leaves his book on "Safe Driving" to Norman Hawes.

David "Chester" Collingwood leaves his height to Harry Melfie to help him see the front board if he gets a seat in the back row.

Stanley Dill leaves the worn-out parallel bars in the gym to Philip Geminiani.

Joan Delliacono leaves to Mike a classroom pass, good for all year, to roam the corridors alone.

Isabel Melfie leaves her book on "How to Tan" to next year's paleface.

Eddie Landers leaves his bottle of freckle remover to Robert Nesbit.

"Roe" Tartufo leaves with the thought, "Silence is golden, but I'd rather talk."

Sue Palanza leaves her versatility to Tessie Antosca, who will put it to good use fighting for next year's cheering trophies.

Ronnie Sankey leaves his white bucks to Mr. Gallo, who is forever looking for another pair.

Kathy Cruser leaves her title "Homemaker of the Year" to Judy Rouille.

Dougie Maxwell leaves with a sigh of relief.

Marshall Hutchinson leaves Miss Henchel a year's supply of "ABC" gum for her wastebasket.

Ann Whittaker leaves to test her patience in the classroom as a teacher.

Bev Rodrick leaves her potato chips to replenish the supply in the cafeteria.

Gail Unger leaves her jokes to next year's chemistry class.

Fred Giovino leaves his golfing ability and gold records to Lawrence Jackson. (Maybe they'll have better luck next year).

Mary Jackson bequeaths to Bobby Staples her naturally wavy hair.

Frannie Vicino leaves his "48 Chevy" to anyone who goes in for the "New Look."

David Blenkhorn leaves his line of broken-hearted underclass girls behind saying, "Don't call me, I'll call you."

Dave Piasecki leaves the "surplus of funds" in the Student Council Store to Wayne Goebel, next year's president.

Sandra Bravetti leaves her dry sense of humor to Raye MaLaughlin.

To Carole Fisher, Anita Signoriello leaves her slender form.

John Cipriani leaves to rest after all the work he did on the yearbook.

Nancy "Hoppalong" Olney leaves a monogrammed cast to Karen Dauphinee.

Diane Hagerty and Donna Schromm leave Carol Witherspoon a book on "How to Keep a Steady Boyfriend."

Albert "Captain" Niemi leaves his collegiate dress to Jose Viera.

Anna Nasise leaves her easy-going ways to her sister Gloria.

Carol Alessandri leaves Miss Shaheen singing, "Please Don't Leave Me."

Elaine Sarro leaves hoping some lucky girl is enjoying the new pair of sneakers that she "lost."

Sandy Pritchard leaves her cute walk to Aileen Porfido.

Ellen Stanford leaves all her friends wondering what she will do next.

Pat Breen leaves her job of writing the Class Will to any unfortunate Junior drafted for it.

Sandy Ferrulo leaves those high-calorie desserts to Nancy Tessier.

JoAnn Melchiorri leaves to serve her fellow man by becoming a nurse.

To whom it may concern—John Paine is "like" leaving.

Marion Gasson leaves with a warning to the world, "I may look quiet, but look again."

Raymond Briggs leaves his tuba to Michael Molinari in hopes that he can handle it.

Class Prophecy

by Carol Allesandri, Sandra Pritchard, and David Piasecki

It was a sunny day in May in the year 1965. This was the date set for our five-year reunion. Oh, how exciting and thrilling this day would be! What were our classmates doing? Where are they living? Were they successful in their goals? All these questions would be answered in a matter of minutes.

As I went down to the railroad station to welcome some of my high school chums, I saw the train pulling in. However, it wasn't an ordinary train, something was peculiar about it! As soon as I saw the name, I realized why this was so. It was the "New Thing"—The Cortlandt Bellavance Express. My, My, just think, good ole "Cort" is a multi-millionaire! This train was equipped with everything.

As I went inside, I saw that Red Cross nurse, JoAnn Melchiorri, was administering first aid to Wally Gordon. I asked what the matter was and JoAnn replied, "Oh it's nothing, Carol, I'm just giving Wally some growing pills so that he will be able to join the St. Louis Hawks."

I stepped off the train to greet my classmates one by one. Juliana Kane, a journalist for the NEW YORK TIMES, stepped down. It seems that "Julie" is doing a big story on beatniks.

Suddenly I heard this weird sound. I thought, "What can that be?" Sure enough, it was Nancy Olney and Elaine Sarro having a race on who could say the most words in five minutes. I leave it up to you to decide upon the winner.

I was so excited to see all my successful friends! In the midst of all the commotion, I seemed to hear some "Do, Re, Mi's." What a surprise! It was that famous singer, Judy Peck, known to us as Judy Piasecki. Judy was accompanied by that famed radio-TV announcer, Carolyn Holt. Everyone knows Carolyn for her "La Tourraine Coffee" ads.

I was so happy that Dave Collingwood and Stan (Ammandicondi - ipskity - bumtimmihitimmihotimmirum tumtumpolagetchacamion) Dill were able to make it. You see, Dave is the star of the Celtics and Stan has just won the world's record in the Olympics.

However, everyone was sad to learn that Tom Donlan couldn't make it. Poor Tom was on trial in New York for blowing up the Empire State Building with one of his chemical experiments.

Two more classmates climbed down from the train. Why, Anita Arayas and Sandra Ferrullo! As was expected, both achieved their goals. Anita was recently appointed head nurse at Newton-Wellesley Hospital, while Sandy was named head buyer at Filene's.

The next one to get off was Professor Roberta Bielan. Roberta is a professor in mathematics at Columbia University. Behind Roberta was Pete DeGirolamo, who owns a landscaping business in Boston. It seems that Pete is up to his ears in money and doesn't know just what to do with it.

This really was an excellent date for a reunion. "The Three Musketeers," Roberta Farinella, Marion Gasson, and Mary Fran Jackson, just returned from a cruise to the Caribbean. I imagine that the teaching profession paid off for them.

"Look," I said, "Look at what's coming off now!" It was those famous accountants, Sir Robert Whaley, John "I Doubt It" Paine, and Leonard "Why Not!" Payden. All three held executive positions in New York. The name of their corporation was "Sir, I Doubt It Not." Funny name but my word did they take in a lot of business.

Following "The Boys" were Jean and Edward O'Neill. They came all the way up from Florida. Gee, what five years can do to one's dialect. Why, Jean got off by saying, "How ah you allll doing?"

Mary Crotty was also unable to make it, primarily because she was on her way to Hawaii. Mary's an airline stewardess for T.W.A. She's the one that says, "Have a nice trip, hope you won't feel worse."

Al Niemi, Professor at Stonehill College, just pulled into the station. Boy, Al's going up in the world, he's still riding his "Silver Sands" truck. I imagine he aims to get his money's worth out of that thing.

In all the excitement, I didn't see Major Marshall Hutchinson get off. Marshall's uniform is covered with medals of all sorts.

Julie Kane ran up to me and said, "Carol, did you read my column last week?" I replied negatively. She told me that she did a story on Ray Fiore, who recently won an award in fishing! In all his fame, Ray was not able to make the reunion.

In came that famous estate owner, "Barbie" Donlan, who owns an estate in Hyannis that could be a town in itself.

After Barbie arrived, everyone threw a glance at that enormous truck coming up. It was Franny Vicino, who owns his own concrete firm down on the Cape.

Dick Geminiani arrived just in time with his bus, to take everyone to the high school to renew acquaintances.

Our class decided to celebrate its reunion with a banquet at the Rose Garden, and I waited at the door to greet my old classmates as they came in.

The first to arrive with a big "Hello" was Rosemarie Ricci, owner of Ricci's Pizza Palace on the Cape. Remembering her crazy pizza parties, I can see why she's so successful.

Driving up in her shiny, new, red convertible was that famous New York fashion designer, Ellen Stanford. She owns her own salon and has a whole staff of designers under her.

Margaret Moran, the owner of a large chain of 5 & 10's, greeted me with her usual and unforgettable laugh.

Just after her came Rollie Tartufo with the other members of her famous dance team, Rene Young and Judy Paioni, who are a smash hit in their newest Broadway show. Rollie did one of her well-known "Charleston's" around the room before finding her table beside Donna and Russ Christian, who just arrived home from a honeymoon in Germany and Sweden.

In the midst of this Donald "Pee Wee" Wellman, owner of Frates, sauntered in with his usual drawl wanting to know what was going on.

That famous baseball star, Ronnie Sankey, arrived just in time to say goodbye to his old buddy, Bobby Santucci, the head football coach at Columbia University. Bobby had a big game scheduled for the next day and had to cut short his visit back home.

Mark Hansel made a special trip home from the jungles of South America where he's a missionary. He tells me that Stanley "Steamer" Medeiros and Bruce Fletcher own a steamship line there and couldn't come home because of an international spy incident.

Sid Ballou, hearing all this, stated that he was glad he'd stayed home on his chicken farm in good old West Mansfield.

Arriving from New York were Army Brunelle and David Blackford, co-owners of a highly successful accounting firm. Among their famous clients are Tommy Markt, the multimillionaire banker and Beverly Rodrick, who has just taken over the management of the First National Stores all over the country.

Suddenly there was the sound of breaking glass from inside and a big splash. Ralph Blackader had danced himself right into the punchbowl with Rollie Tartufo and had a nice deep cut on his hand! But the day was saved by those two great nurses, Susan Palanza and Janet Phillips.

Gerry Spiezio and Gail Unger, both private secretaries at the Watts & Wills Diaper Service, were discussing with Anita Signoriello her new job as secretary to Albert Inglese, the famous Hollywood director.

Dwight "Hot Rod" Phillips couldn't be here because he had just set a new record at the Indianapolis Speedway.

Diane Hagerty just arrived home from an European holiday sponsored by the Foxboro Company and was telling me of her trip when the star of "Ding Dong School," Ann Whittaker, arrived.

Billy "Bruiser" Slattery couldn't come to the reunion because tonight he meets "Killer" Kowalski in the biggest wrestling match of his career at Boston Garden.

In one section of the dining room were Sandra Menard, Janice King, Kathy Cruser and Pat Breen, all secretaries at the Foxboro Company, listening to Norma Menga explain her interesting government work in Italy.

One of the executives already seated was Doug Maxwell, head of the Mansfield Water Department. Doug was busily convincing his cousin Ron Maxwell, who is now an electrical technician, that he is still keeping "things" rolling for the water department.

Also seated close-by were senor James Baldini and Mr. William Foster, who have bought Fernandes and are now the highest ranking FEMBA members in the world.

Ron DeSantis interrupted his busy schedule as life guard at the famous Park Avenue pool to attend the reunion.

A beautiful steak dinner was being served as Fred "Ben Hogan" Giovino, new owner of the Rose Garden, asked if everyone was enjoying himself. Elaine Nordberg and Joan Delliacono nodded their approval, and continued their discussion concerning the strategy for next year's girls' sports calendar. Elaine and Joan have taken over at Mansfield High as the girls' physical education directors.

Following the dinner classmates continued to mingle and talk about their accomplishments. One of the most interesting discussions seemed to be between Gerry Cutillo, Sandra Cooper, and Anna Nasise. It seems that after several months of training, Anna had finally been selected as an American Air Lines hostess.

Isabel "May" Melfie, was attempting to convince housewives Sandra Bravetti and Geraldine Allard that she doubted that she would be married any more than three times.

Billy Fielding and Dave Blenkhorn, who own a new bakery were congratulated for the fine desserts which they generously donated.

The guests began to depart slowly, hoping that the future reunions would be as successful. Professor John Cipriani, head of mathematics at Northeastern University, thanked everyone who helped make the day an enjoyable one.

Factory workers, Ray Briggs, Bob Baldini, and Dave Craig, talked about the success of the reunion and departed.

Harold Bishop, Roger Cardin, and Fred Brown would return to their recently built garage the following morning and Ed Landers and Harry Larsen will soon be completing the plans for their new construction company.

SENIORS

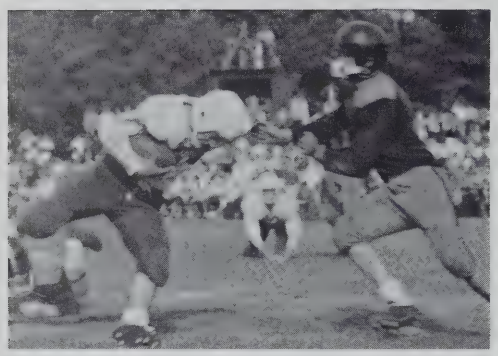
Mansfield 16—Somerset 0: The Hornets started the season off by upsetting the defending Class D Champs, who went into the game favored by two to three touchdowns. The offensive punch was sparked by the smart quarterbacking of Doug Maxwell and the hard running of Sophomore Ron Gentili while the defensive unit played a very determined game and shut out the ex-champs.

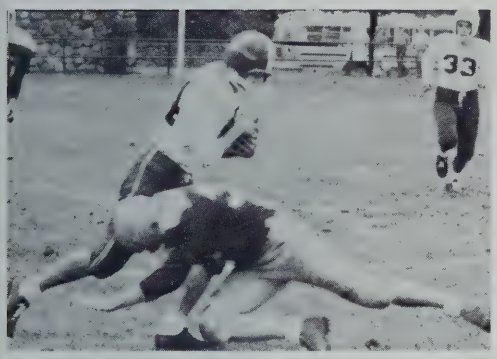


Mansfield 32—Franklin 6: The Green and White proved that their impressive victory the week before was no fluke and completely outclassed the Blue as they took their second win behind crisp-blocking, rock-ribbed tackling, and heads-up pass defense. The outstanding point getter of the afternoon was Ron Gentili, who scored 3 TD's.

Mansfield 26—North Easton 6: For the first time since 1953, a Mansfield football squad came out on top after a battle with the usually mighty Oliver Ames. Although the small Hornets were outweighed, the spunky, all Senior line opened wide gaps which enabled the backs to run long distances. Again fine quarterbacking by "Maxie" dominated the game and long runs by Ron Gentili (83 yards) and Dave Piasecki (50 yards) added to the excitement. Senior linebacker Stan Dill stood out on defense.

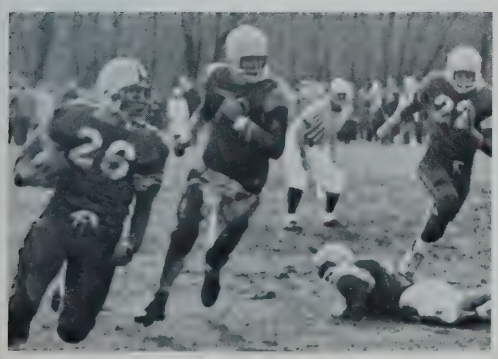
Mansfield 28—Canton 6: The typical hustle of the Hornets was again displayed as they trounced Canton. Ron Gentili bagged three touchdowns to up his season's total to eight and Dave Piasecki added a 93-yard touchdown jaunt to the scoreboard behind the crisp blocking of the entire forward wall led by Fran Vicino, Jim Baldini, Bill Foster, and Ron Maxwell. The defensive unit maintained its strength, allowing only six points.

Mansfield 8—Dartmouth 6: The Mansfield squad traveled to the Cape on a rain-soaked day seeking another victory and were nearly disappointed. Although the Hornets gained 242 yards to the Indians' 115, each could muster up only one touchdown. Quarterback Doug Maxwell looked like a scatback as he dashed 11 yards for our only touchdown and then threw the all important extra-point to Captain Pete DeGirolamo. The defensive unit again held the opposition to only 6 points and refused to budge when the going got rough.



Mansfield 26—Case 0: The sparkling offensive drive of the Green and White again proved to be overpowering to the opposition. Two touchdowns by Ron Sankey (a 68-yard pass interception, and a 27-yard pass from Doug Maxwell), a 65-yard jaunt by Gentili, a short line plunge by Stan Dill, and an extra point conversion (Maxwell to DeGirolamo) were the extent of the Hornet scoring. Other standouts were Bob Santucci, who brought the crowd to their feet with several fine punt returns, and Fran Vicino and Bobby Dutton, the defensive stars of the game.

Mansfield 24—North Attleboro 0: Led by Dave Collingwood and Jim Baldini of the defensive unit and the Maxwell-Sankey combination on offense, the fighting Hornets played their finest game of the season. North was held to a net 5 yards rushing while the Green and White, behind the crisp blocking of Bob Santucci and the hard running of Ron Gentili, was grinding out 187 yards on the ground. The Mansfield hard-noses dominated and outclassed North in one of the roughest games of the year.



Mansfield 14—Foxboro 6: By defeating Foxboro, the Hornets gained the first undefeated-untied season (8-0) and the first Class D Championship in M.H.S. history. Key plays of the day were turned in by Wally Gordon (blocked punt—six points) and Captain Pete DeGirolamo who prevented an important touchdown jaunt. Again the defensive unit, led by Bill Foster and Fran Vicino, refused to yield more than 6 points and played a strong game.

Hornets Take Second League Title of Year

DRIBBLING HORNETS

The curtain finally came down on the 1959-1960 basketball season, with the Hornets and Randolph tied (15-3) for the Hockomock Title. The Hornets, showing that they are the deserving champs, beat Randolph 75-74 in the rubber game of the Hockomock Title. It was a tremendous season for Coach Sullivan and his scrappy Hornets as they gained the title through a great showing of teamwork.

Ron Gentili, the Sophomore sensation, led the Hornets in scoring with a total of 374 points, as he set a new sophomore scoring record. The big scorers this season were Gordon (358), Co-Capt. Sankey (331), and Co-Capt. Collingwood (285).

Off the bench came clutch performances from Bobby Santucci and Doug Maxwell, as each scored vital baskets during the season.

Third League Title for Hornets

The 1960 Green Hornet baseball team (14-4) captured the Hockomock League Title, making it the first time that the Green and White has ever made a clean sweep of athletic championships in League competition.

Coach Sullivan has worked untiringly with this year's baseball team. We will always remember his spirited ways.

Doug Maxwell (.349) and Ron Sankey (.404) led the Hornets in hitting. Co-Capt. Bobby Santucci and Co.-Capt. Ron Sankey led the team in scoring, each having crossed the plate more than 20 times. The Hornet outfield of "scrappy" Dave Piasecki, Ron Maxwell, and Army Brunell proved to be the best in the League with their terrific defense.

Pete DeGirolamo and Bobby Santucci led the team in stolen bases. Pete getting 16 and Bobby, while not being thrown out all season, got 22.

Ron Gentili and Wally Gordon were this year's pitchers with Gentili getting 11 wins and no losses.

For the past several years Coach Bill Parsons has put his squad through a terrific pace . . . This year, his cinder men proved to be the best in many years.

The main point-getters for the Hornets were seniors Fran Vicino, Dave Collingwood, and Stan Dill . . . along with sophomore Ron Gentili.

Good luck to the following track squads of MHS.

Here are the girls who cheered Mansfield High School teams on to championships in football and basketball. They, too, are champions, for our cheerleaders placed fourth in a cheering competition which was held at the David Prouty School in Spencer. Their personality, neat appearance, and lady-like manner make Mansfield High School proud to be represented by such a wonderful group.

The co-captains of this squad were B. Donlan and S. Palanza. The rest of the squad includes: T. Antosca, E. Bolin, K. Dauphinee, S. Ferrara, S. Kelleher, K. Mei, C. Palanza, and S. Paioni.
